

Congratulations on taking the first step toward a healthy tomorrow for you and your family. These steps are difficult and can be initially painful, but know there are many people who want to help in a confidential manner.

Below is a partial list of resources for students, families and the community related particularly to drug/alcohol related issues. The therapists whom are listed with a CACDIII behind their name indicate they have specific training in alcohol and other drug issues. They are trained to work with individuals and families that are living with this disease.

Please check with your insurance agency for specific coverage of services and check with your primary care physician/insurance company to determine if a referral is needed prior to establishing an appointment. In addition, you may need to contact each individual agency regarding which insurance they accept.

Please keep in mind this is not an endorsement of these agencies nor is it a comprehensive list. This list is for reference only, and the professionals are listed in no particular order. There may also be other qualified professionals located at these offices that are not listed here. Please use your own discretion in selecting a professional to meet your family's needs. Additional resources can be obtained by calling Kim Kloeppel, School Social Worker, WGSD at 210-8591. My best to you and your family.
